

Radiographer (Band 5)

Organisation

West Middlesex University Hospital

Description

Enrich your imaging career

Chelsea and Westminster Hospital NHS Foundation Trust has a reputation as a world-class imaging service with extensive investment to develop our teams and infrastructure. We have commissioned a brand new interventional radiology suite, more than 30 new ultrasound scanners, two new CT scanners, two new MRI scanners and several new x-ray and mammography units, with more to come.

We are a proudly accredited Quality Standard for Imaging (QSI) organisation and during inspection we have been recognised for having a happy and patient-focused team.

If you are looking for a job where you are professionally developed, working at the forefront of radiological imaging and can go home each day feeling incredibly proud that you are delivering a service of the highest possible standard, then don't miss out on your opportunity to be part of something great.

Opportunities at our two hospital sites include:

Interim (12-month) MRI superintendent (Band 8a) vacancy at Chelsea and Westminster Hospital.

Radiographer (Band 5) and senior radiographer (Band 6) vacancies at West Middlesex University Hospital.
